

Web of Ideas for Exploring Reading Experiences

List keywords or short phrases in the circles 1-6 for what you consider the main idea(s) for you from each book as they relate to How You Think

Use this Web as your tool for making connections between these ideas following the illustrative flow of arrows*. Note the binary connections in the intersections. (*Play with other flows of arrows as you see fit.)

Do multiple drafts to stimulate thinking about ideas and connections between them – this exercise is not about any definitive results or any 'correct'/'incorrect' answers.

One could know fully only what one had oneself made - Isaiah Berlin (following Vico)

"In all affairs it's a healthy thing now and then to hang a question mark on the things you have long taken for granted" - attrib. Bertrand Russell,

"Being sure of something is one thing; knowing why one is sure is another" - Richard Skemp

"Mental activities, invisible themselves and occupied with the invisible, become manifest only through speech" - Hannah Arendt

"A great many people think they are thinking when they are merely rearranging their prejudices" - William James

A painting is never finished – it simply stops in interesting places - Paul Gardner
